

Hudson County's Restaurant Week brings culinary delights into budget

Kelsea Wilks
Staff Writer

Hudson Restaurant Week began on January 23 and will continue through February 3. On Monday through Friday during these 10 days, over 30 different restaurants in Hudson County will be offering 3 course prix-fixe meals. Lunches are $15 or less and dinners are $30 or less, not including drinks, tax, or tip.

Hudson Restaurant Week was launched last year to encourage people to look to the restaurants in Hudson County when choosing a place to dine. Stevens is right at the heart of the festivities. A good number of the restaurants are in close proximity to the campus and the lowered prices offer the perfect opportunity for students to get a taste of some top of line places.

Hudson Restaurant Week is presented by Level Vodka by Absolut, which will be throwing an after party at Trinity on February 7. The event is produced by Get Out Hudson!, and sponsored by The Dalmore, Welcome New Jersey, Hudson Menus, and Restaurant Passion.

The participating cities include Hoboken, Jersey City, Bayonne, North Bergen, and Secaucus. The Liberty House in Jersey City is accessible by the Light Rail and is a beautiful restaurant overlooking the city, an excellent choice that would most likely be out of budget range without the Hudson Restaurant Week specials. KomegashiToo, which was reviewed in the last issue of The Stute, is another excellent venue participating in the promotion.

Below are the participating Hoboken restaurants. The starred restaurants are more casual and generally offer a less expensive selection. For more information, including a comprehensive list of participating restaurants and restaurant contact information, visit www.hudsonrestaurantweek.com.

Dining Specials in the Hudson Area

Offering Dinner and Lunch Specials

Forty Grill	Liberty Bar & Grill
Black Bear Bar	The Madison
Brass Rail	Mile Square
The Dubliner	Oddfellows Rest
Elysian Café	Sushi Lounge

Offering Dinner Specials Only

10th and Willow	Jefferson
Amanda's	Lounge II
Arthur's Tavern	Nine
Cucharamama	The Quays